If workforce issues are on your mind, we want you!

Seeking business nominees to serve on our Workforce Development Board

The Local Elected Officials Consortium of the Shenandoah Valley Region is seeking business nominees to serve on the Workforce Development Board (WDB).

The WDB will work in partnership with Local Elected Officials to strategically deploy an annual budget of approximately $1.46 million to refine and advance a demand-driven and responsive workforce system.

Through its plans and policies, the WDB is responsible for convening regional workforce, education, economic and community development partners to develop solutions and strategies that meet business needs identified through employer engagement. This is your opportunity to help influence talent pipeline development, prepare people to work and shrink the skills gap.

We are looking for visionary leaders who will...

- Regularly attend and engage at quarterly meetings of the full board.
- Participate on a standing committee or working group that may meet more frequently to advance the ongoing work of the board or special projects.
- Advocate on behalf of the workforce development system within the larger business community and in the public arena at the local, state and national levels.
- Follow trends in workforce development and strive to continuously increase in knowledge of the industry and issues that impact it.

Process and timeline:

- Business members may be nominated by a Chamber of Commerce within the region, a local economic development office, a business organization or association, or by a business. Nominations may come from one of these entities on behalf of an individual or directly from the nominee.
- The SVWDB Business Board Member Nomination Form should be submitted to your local economic development representative or to Sharon Johnson, CEO, Shenandoah Valley Workforce Development Board at sjohnson@vcwvalley.com.
- The Local Elected Officials will review the nominations and make appointments to the Shenandoah Valley WDB.
